Commander's Message

Cdr. Ron Schwartz, SN

Last month, our speaker at our monthly meeting was Jack Broadhurst, Commander of Division Eighteen - Detroit River, of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary. There are several groups in Division Eighteen so his position is similar to our District Commander. He told us about what the CGAUX does. They are all civilian volunteers, assist the Coast Guard, and can do anything the Coast Guard can do, except law enforcement. Like the Power Squadron they teach basic boating safety courses and do vessel safety inspections. In addition they patrol assigned sections of water and assist boaters for which they receive a gasoline subsidy. See <http://www.cgaux.org/> Established in 1939 by Congress, the 30,000 members of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary are Semper Paratus (always ready).

This month the speakers at our monthly meeting will be John and Marlene Barr, showing pictures of their trip from Portugal to Rome. See page 3 for details.

Our web site is up and running thanks to Evrard (Freddy) Ohou, Peggy Moller, and Curtis Hoff. Check it out at www.aaspsq.org and send suggestions to webmaster Freddy at oevfred@umich.edu.

Our Administrative Officer, Lt/C Karen Snyder, P, is doing a great job of planning speakers for our general meetings. Please respond to her AASPS Program Survey when it arrives in your e-mail.

The Tip of the Thumb Heritage Water Trail is a 103-mile water trail on Lake Huron with 44 access points that winds around Michigan's Thumb into Saginaw Bay. <http://www.michiganwatertrails.org/> The southern section of the water trail starts at White Rock Park and travels past many interesting but rocky areas. The "northern" section of the trail begins at White Rock Park and travels north and around the thumb terminating at the Quanicassee River public access site. Once paddlers on the north trail round the point at Port Austin, the shore becomes sandy. See the map on page 5. Wear a lifejacket and only go when the water is calm, and prepare for tipping by stowing for cameras, radios, etc. in waterproof bags. Go to <http://www.personal.umich.edu/~jensen/visuals/album/2009/portaustin/> for super pictures, videos, and a map to Turnip Rock near Port Austin.

The D9 Spring Conference description and registration form are on pages 12 and 13 of this issue of the Porthole. If you can, try to go to the conference, especially the Friday night hospitality rooms. They are lots of fun.

Assistant Secretary's Message

Lt/C Bob Buchanan, P

This winter has again turned frigid! The Great Lakes are about 87% ice covered with only Lakes Michigan and Ontario having some areas of open water. The result is a major impact on lake shipping plus another possible delay in the start of the 2015 shipping season. The Soo Locks are scheduled to open March 25th but the first boat did not arrive until April 4th last year due to ice. A number of lake freighters had adventurous sailings during this past January and February. This report will describe only one, the struggles of Canadian National's Arthur M. Anderson.

First, the reason the Anderson's name is engraved in the annals of Great Lakes maritime history is for the roll she played in the Edmund Fitzgerald disaster in the early evening of Monday, November 10, 1975. On sunny November 9, 1975, the Anderson departed Two Harbors, MN with a load of ore for Gary, IN. She was overtaken by the larger and faster Edmund Fitzgerald. The two captains (Capt. Jesse Cooper of the Anderson and Capt. Ernest McSorley of the Fitzgerald) agreed to run together maintaining contact with each other on their Lake Superior transit through a forecasted storm to the Soo taking the longer route following the Canadian shore. On their last leg of their run following the eastern Canadian shore toward Whitefish Bay, they were exposed to extremely heavy following seas of 20 to 30 feet. In a snow squall, the Fitzgerald disappeared from the Anderson's radar screen. Emerging from the squall, the lights of the Fitzgerald were also gone. Captain Cooper stated to the USCG in a historic transmission, "I am concerned about the welfare of the steamer Edmund Fitzgerald."

The Anderson continues to be hard at work during the shipping season. This past February, the Anderson made her final trip of the season with a load of ore to Connaught, Ohio with plans to return to Sturgeon Bay for winter layup. However, she never made it into Conneaut, but was beset by ice in Lake Erie, shown here in a photograph by the USCG. The plume of exhaust suggests that the engines were at full power. The 140' USCG Bristol Bay, on which many of our power squadron members have sailed, was dispatched to aid the Anderson. The picture here was taken from the bridge of the Bristol Bay by her captain, Lt. Cdr Henry while she was working hard to break ice. But Bristol Bay had her own struggles and was forced to return to Cleveland for fuel escorted by the Canadian CG ice-breaker Griffon. At one point the Bristol Bay ran low on food requiring a nighttime catering by USCG helicopter as shown here. This remarkable photograph, taken by the USCG, shows the ice ridges.

Finally the CCG ice-breaker Samuel Risley was tasked to break out the Anderson. Cleveland was considered as a destination but ice ridges made this difficult so the Risley with the Anderson in tow finally reached Detroit on February 24th. The aerial CCG photograph shows the Risley working parallel to the beset Anderson to develop a track of open water. Finally, you can see the Risley taking a rest with a CCG helicopter alongside, crewmen walking out on the ice.

As we look ahead, the opening of the 2015 shipping season is not far away, but we can only speculate about how this will be possible in view of the ice conditions. The lower St. Clair River will likely again be a choke point with ice almost to the bottom.

Education Department

Our ABC class starts May 12 at Washtenaw Community College. We already have 2 students enrolled. Call 734-971-6589 for information.

JN class is progressing. This course teaches celestial navigation -- determining your position from sextant sights on the sun. We have found that the Gallup Park Launch Site on Geddes Road east of Huron Parkway is a convenient place from which to take sextant sights. The class is meeting Tuesday evenings at St. Joe's Hospital Womens Health Center 2nd floor classrooms.

On-Line seminars are now available -- developed by USPS and Boat US. Three online seminars are now available - Weather for Boaters, Partner in Command and Boating on Rivers, Locks and Lakes. <http://www.usps.org/national/eddept/promos/quimby-ad-finals.jpg> or <http://www.boatus.org/course-preview/pic/index.html>

We have a variety of 2 hour seminars to choose from with no exams, just pure pleasure. We will offer some of these if we have students interested. See <http://www.usps.org/national/eddept/seminars/main.htm>

Please send me (aapsclasses@aol.com) a list of the USPS courses and seminars that you want to study during the next 5 years, so we can plan and advertise these and attract more students.

Please look at the variety of boating topics we offer at United States Power Squadron's website, www.usps.org If you have a desire to enhance and share your knowledge in any boating subject, please let me know. We can probably get others to share the teaching responsibilities. It's fun to teach and learn.

Executive Officer's Message

Lt/C Frank Hoy, JN

A Hoy members,

The warm weather has arrived to SW Florida. Of course it brings a sudden rise in the pollen levels. Achoo! I have received our 2015 safety inspection stickers from national. I have attached a photo of this year's sticker. I plan on doing boat safety inspections the middle of June. I will be doing inspections at the Waterloo recreation area. We are always warmly welcomed at this location, and I look forward to doing this project for the squadron.

Now that it's warming up down here, I plan on a fishing expedition out in the Gulf of Mexico. I will document this adventure with lots of photographs. An all day trip costs $60.00 and goes out about 25 miles. You want to make sure you go on a day when the wind isn't blowing very hard. I will keep you posted.
